LEADERSHIP FOREWORD

The second quarter of 2026 became a period of scaling up the activities of the Charitable Organization "100% Life.

Zaporizhzhia." We expanded our geographic coverage to three regions of Ukraine: Zaporizhzhia, Kharkiv and Sumy. With UNICEF support, we also launched a nationwide project to strengthen the capacity of primary healthcare facilities through training for healthcare professionals, provision of equipment, and development of early childhood development services.

We strengthened our team and continued to develop the areas in which the Organization has strong expertise: public health, humanitarian response, support for children and families, early intervention, and assistance to veterans and people affected by the war.

This quarter demonstrated not only quantitative growth, but also a gradual transition towards more systematic work.

STORIES THAT CHANGE LIVES

“

Iryna: "I Never Knew I Could Protect Myself"

I decided to get tested for HIV. The result was negative, and at first I thought that was the end of it. But during a conversation with a social worker, I heard about HIV pre-exposure prophylaxis - PrEP for the first time.

After the consultation, I underwent additional screening. It turned out that, based on certain risk factors, I was advised to start PrEP. The social worker explained everything in detail, answered my questions, helped me understand the next steps, and arranged a referral to a healthcare facility.

Today, I have already started taking PrEP and feel much more confident because I know I can take care of my health. Now I understand how important it is not only to get tested, but also to receive professional counselling. It was thanks to this support that I learned about an option that helps me protect myself.

STORIES THAT CHANGE LIVES

“A Family from Zaporizhzhia: "Our Child Was Afraid to Go Indoors"”

Our Bohdan is two years old. When we approached the early intervention team, our main concern was that our son was very afraid of any indoor spaces, especially medical facilities. He completely refused to go inside, cried, and felt very anxious.

The specialists did not rush him or force Bohdan to do anything he was not ready for. At first, they simply got to know him outside. They played together with a ball and toy cars, blew soap bubbles, and spent a lot of time interacting with him. Step by step, trust developed between them.

Only when our son began to feel calmer did they suggest going indoors for a short while. If he became anxious, they went back outside.

Everything happened at his own pace - without pressure and with great respect for his feelings.

Today, Bohdan calmly goes indoors, stays there, enjoys playing and interacting with the specialists. What seemed impossible not long ago has now become part of his everyday life.

We are sincerely grateful to the early intervention team for their patience, support, and belief in our child. This story showed us that small steps, trust, and working together can change the life of an entire family.
